Standards of Academic Progress
70% Rule Estimator

1) To determine the Overall Completion Percentage you will need to do the following:

- Calculate Overall Attempted Hours by adding up all courses attempted in academic career including courses dropped with a "W".
- Calculate Overall Earned Hours by adding up the credit hour value for each course in which you received a grade of "D" or better.

*Title IV aid eligibility does not allow exclusion of credit hours (attempted or earned) through Academic Bankruptcy. In other words, any credit hours excluded as a result of filing Academic Bankruptcy must be added to the overall attempted and earned credit hours.

2) To estimate your Completion Percentage incorporating the current semester/session of enrollment do the following:

- Complete the steps above to determine Overall Completion Percentage. This data will be automatically included in the estimation below.
- Enter the Attempted Hours for the current semester/session of enrollment.
- Enter the Earned Hours you anticipate you will complete in the current semester/session of enrollment with a grade of "D" or better.

*If you have or will drop a course with a "W" you must include the credit hours for that course under Current Enrollment Attempted Hours but not under Current Enrollment Earned Hours.
