INTRODUCTION

Mr. George Sabatier of Eunice and Lake Charles has spent the greater part of a lifetime bringing together the Louisiana materials listed in this catalog. In 1967 he transferred these items to the LeDoux Library of Louisiana State University at Eunice where they are available to interested scholars. Unfortunately, the materials were received too late for inclusion in the latest supplement of the Louisiana Union Catalog. Many of the titles have not yet appeared in that catalog and there is no indication that they are available elsewhere in the state.

Although the materials include many modern and readily available items, Mr. Sabatier's primary interest has been in first and very early editions of works pertaining to the period of exploration and settlement. Early editions of Olliffe, Hennepin, Barbé-Marbois, Darby, Bossu, LePage du Pratz, Baudry des Lozieres, Berquin Duvallon, Vergennes, Charlevoix, Lahontan, Beltrami, and Joutel are included. Many of the items are presentation and association copies of works which are, in themselves, rare.

This catalog has been prepared as an inventory of the Sabatier materials now included in the Louisiana Collection of the LeDoux Library. Because it is primarily an inventory, it includes none of the numerous supplementary items in the larger collection nor were any Sabatier items of lesser value excluded. It should be understood, therefore, that notations pertaining to missing volumes (e.g. collection contains only volume 2) apply only to the Sabatier materials—not to the larger collection.

Each entry in the catalog has been, whenever possible, carefully researched and annotated. For the more important items the annotations are extensive and attempt to identify the exact edition, to cite any unusual variations in the copies, and to give an indication of their historical significance. Where appropriate, reference has been made by number to Sabin's, A dictionary of books relating to America and to Blanck's, Bibliography of American literature.

CATALOG OF THE SABATIER MATERIALS ON LOUISIANA

1. Abbott, John Stevens Cabot, 1805-1877. LaC F 1030.5 A13
The adventures of the Chevalier de la Salle and his companions, in their explorations of the prairies, forests, lakes, and rivers, of the New World, and their interviews with the savage tribes, two hundred years ago. New York, Dodd & Mead (1875).
384 p. front., 4 pl. (American pioneers & patriots)

An account of La Salle's adventures by one of the Nineteenth Century's most popular and prolific writers. Probably more entertaining than useful.
2. Anthony, Irvin, 1890- LaC F 351 A62
Paddle wheels and pistols. Illustrated and decorated by Manning De V. Lee and Lyle Justis. Philadelphia, Macrae Smith Company (©1929).
329p. incl. col. Front., illus. (port col.) plates. Col. Plates.

"First edition"
A romantic account of the great river without footnotes or bibliography. Nicely illustrated.
3. Anville, Jean Baptiste Bourguignon d', 1697-1782.
Canada, Louisiane, et terres angloises, par le sr d'Anville. (Paris) Chez l'auteur, aux Galeries du Louvre, 1755.
Map.

This map reflects the conflicting claims of France and Great Britain prior to the settlement of 1763. The cartographer was noted for the accuracy of his measurements and became Premier Geographe du Roi in 1773.
4. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. LaC QL 31 A9 A7
Audubon, an intimate life of the American woodsman, by Stanley Clisby Arthur...New Orleans, Harmanson, 1937.
517p. front., illus., plates, ports., maps (1 double).

"This edition, printed on Hazelbourn Satin antique deckle edge paper and signed by the author, is limited to 375 copies, of which only 350 are for sale. This copy is number "B". The "B" of the numbering is in Arthur's own hand and may indicate that this was one of the twenty-five reserved copies.

This beautifully printed work contains a wealth of information.

5. (Arthur, Stanley Clisby) LaC QL 684 L8 A5 1918
The birds of Louisiana. Published by the Department of Conservation...January, 1918. (New Orleans, 1918)
80p. illus. (incl. maps) (Louisiana Dept. of Conservation. Bulletin 5)

This small pamphlet catalogs 368 Louisiana birds. A useful list to use in conjunction with other works, but when used alone, the descriptions are often inadequate and the few illustrations are useless.

6. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. LaC SF 403 A8
The fur animals of Louisiana, by Stanley C. Arthur. Pub. by the Department of Conservation...New Orleans, 1928.
433p. incl. illus., maps, tables, diagrs.
(Louisiana Dept. of Conservation. Bulletin 18).

In addition to information on the animals this work contains material on trapping, storage of pelts, etc.

7. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. LaC F 374 L125
Jean Laffite, gentleman rover. New Orleans, Harmanson, 1952.
282, (9)p. ports., maps, facsims.

Autographed copy.

Limited edition of 750 copies.

This is perhaps the first appearance of the thesis that Dominique You was Alexandre Frederic Laffite, elder brother of Jean Laffite.

8. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. LaC F 379 N5 A7 1936
Old New Orleans, a history of the Vieux Carré, its ancient and historical buildings. New Orleans, La., Harmanson, 1936.
146 (2)p. incl. front., illus. (incl. maps)
*Autographed copy but a second printing.
This is more or less a high quality tourist guide compiled from the early notarial acts. In each case the history of the buildings has been researched through the records of conveyance.*
9. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. LaC E 356 N5 A7
The story of the battle of New Orleans; issued as part of the official programme of ceremonies commemorating the centenary of that battle and the completion of one hundred years of peace between the United Kingdom of Great Britain and the United States of America...New Orleans, La., Louisiana historical society, 1915.
260p. illus. (incl. ports., maps)
Only edition of this work. The first portion of the book contains the official centennial program; the second portion, much the larger, is a story of the battle.
10. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. F 374 A7 1933
The story of the Kemper brothers; three fighting sons of a Baptist preacher who fought for freedom when Louisiana was young. Reprinted from St. Francisville Democrat (July 8, 15, 28, 29, 1933).
14p.
11. Arthur, Stanley Clisby. F 301 A34
The story of the West Florida rebellion. (St. Francisville, La.) The St. Francisville democrat, 1935.
164p. illus., maps.
First published as "a series of articles...in the 'Pictures of the past' section of the Saint Francisville (La.) democrat."
12. Audubon, John James, 1785-1851. LaC QL 674 A9 1950
Birds of America. Introd. And descriptive captions by Ludlow Griscom. Popular ed. New York, Macmillan, 1950.
320p. (p. 33-320 col. Plates).

A small edition containing 288 of the prints. Griscom's introduction is useful, but not outstanding, and the plates are inferior.

13. Audubon, John James, 1785-1851. LaC QL 674 A9 1946
The birds of America (by) John James Audubon; with a foreword and descriptive captions by William Vogt. New York, The Macmillan Company, 1946. (1937).
xxvi p. incl. front. (port.) 435 col. Pl. on 218l.

The colored plates are preceded by a reproduction of the title-page of one of the original portfolios dated 1827-30, not included in the paging.

"The 435 plates ... originally published by Audubon, in London, during the years 1827-1838 ... a set believed to be the finest in uncut state in America ... has ... been followed in making the present reproductions." - Note.

Unfortunately, the paper used in this edition has a slightly grey tint which has caused the illustrations to appear dull and lifeless.

14. Baillardel, A ed. LaC F 372 B16
Le chevalier de Pradel; vie d'un colon français en Louisiane au XVIII siècle d'après sa correspondance et celle de sa famille. Paris, Maisonneuve frères, 1928.
464p.

Primarily the correspondence of the Chevalier Jean Charles de Pradel de Lamase and his family edited b A. Baillardel and A. Prioult. Pradel was active in the military period of Louisiana's colonization.

15. Balch, Thomas, 1821-1877. Gen E 265 B15
Les Français en Amérique pendant la guerre de l'indépendance des États-Unis 1777-1783; par Thomas Balch. Paris, A. Santon; Philadelphia, J.B. Lippincott; (etc.etc.) 1872.
viii, 237p. l 1. front., illus., pl., port., fold. Map.

*French participation in the American Revolution.
This copy carries the bookplate of the Oneida Historical Society and was presented to the society by Edwin S. Balch, the author's son.*

16. Balch, Thomas, 1821-1877. Gen E 265 B15 1895
The French in America during the War of Independence of the United States, 1777-1783. A translation by Edwin Swift Balch and Elise Willing Balch of Les Francais in Amerique pendant la guerre de l'independance des Etats-Unis, par Thomas Balch.
Philadelphia, Porter & Coates, ©1895.
2 v.

*The collection contains only the scarce volume 2.
Volume 2 was not published in the French edition of 1872 and was translated from the unpublished printer's proofs by the author's son. Primarily a list of regiments and officers.*

17. Barbé-Marbois, François, marquis de, 1745-1837.
LaC F 369 B23

Histoire de la Louisiane et de la cession de cette
Colonie par la France aux États-Unis de l'Amérique Septentrionale; précédée d'un discours sur la constitution et le gouvernement des États-Unis. Par des pays cedés. Paris, Impr. De Firmin Didot, 1829.

2 p. l., 485p. fold. Map.

First edition.

*The author was the French plenipotentiary during the negotiations with the United States for the cession of Louisiana. He held offices under Louis XVI, the Republic, the Empire, and the Restoration.
Both as Minister to the United States and as Minister of the Public Treasury under Napoleon he was a participant in the events of which he wrote.*

22. Baudry des Lozières, Louis Narcisse, 1761-1841. LaC F 373 B35 v.1 &2

Second voyage à la Louisiane, faisant suite au premier de l'auteur de 1794-98. Contenant la vie militaire du général Grondel ... qui commanda long-temps à la Louisiane ... un détail sur les productions les plus avantageuses, les plus extraordinaires, de cette belle colonie, et sur ses quartiers les plus fertiles et les plus lucratifs: de nouvelles réflexions sur les colonies in general, et le régime nécessaire aux personnes des colonies pendant la première année de leur arrive. Par Baudry des Lozières ...Paris, Charles, an XI-1803.

2 v. map, fold. Tab.

First edition.

Contains military biography of Grondel, commander of the French armies in Louisiana, recounting his services against the English and the Indians. Actually the work has no other pretensions to its title of a voyage to Louisiana, than that the author published a previous work under that title in 1802. It is in fact a miscellany relating to the whole of France's colonial affairs.

Sabin No. 3980.

23. (Baudry des Lozières, Louis Narcisse) 1761-1841.

LaC F 373 B34

Voyage à la Louisiane, et sur le continent de l'Amérique septentrionale, fait dans les années 1794 à 1798; contenant un tableau historique de la Louisiane ... Par B D. Orné d'une belle carte ... Paris, Dentu, an XI. -1802.

viiij, 382p. front. (fold. Map).

First edition.

This copy belonged to Thomas Balch and carries his signature on the title-page.

This work contains vocabularies of the Dacotah and Chippeway Indians. Unlike the author's "Second Voyage," this work deals with Louisiana as the title indicates.

Sabin No. 3979.

24. Beltrami, Giacomo Costantino, 1770-1855. F 597 B462

A pilgrimage in America, leading to the discovery of the sources of the Mississippi and Bloody River; with a description of the whole course of the former and of the Ohio. Chicago, Quadrangle Books, 1962.

545p. illus. (American classics)

A republication of v. 2 of a work published in London in 1828 under title: A pilgrimage in Europe and America leading to the discovery of the sources of the Mississippi and Bloody River. This vol. was a translation and enlargement of the author's la découverte des sources du Mississippi.

Athanase de Mézières and the Louisiana-Texas frontier, 1768-1780; documents pub. For the first time, from the original Spanish and French manuscripts, chiefly in the archives of Mexico and Spain; tr. into English; ed. and annotated by Herbert Eugene Bolton.
Cleveland, the Arthur H. Clark Company, 1914-
v. fold front. (map) facsims.

Probably a first edition.

"The writings of De Mézières ... reveal in a way impossible to learn from any other available source the all-absorbing nature of the task of controlling the Nations of the North (the tribes inhabiting the vast region lying on both sides of the Red River) on the one hand, and the more dreaded Apache of western Texas on the other ..." - Preface.

Athanase de Mézières y Clungny was lieutenant-governor of Louisiana and the foremost Indian agent and diplomat of the Louisiana-Texas frontier in the second half of the eighteenth century.

30. Bossu, Jean Bernard, 1720-1792. LaC F 373 B72
Nouveaux voyages aux Indes Occidentales; contenant une relation des differens peuples qui habitant les environs du grand fleuve Saint-Louis, appelé vulgairement le Mississipi; leur religion; leur gouvernement; leur moeurs; leurs guerres & leur commerce. Par M. Bossu ... Paris, Le Jay, 1768.
2v. in 1. fronts., 2 pl.

First edition.

The author's observations during his first two visits to the country, 1751-1757, and 1757-1762. Valuable for its account of the Indians and for botanical information.

Sabin No. 6465 lists only the second edition with the note, "I find no record of the first edition." Obviously, this copy is very rare.

Item 30
Item 104

Two noble savages stand on the banks of American rivers. Bossu's Indian (from Item 30) has a richness about his brief costume that belies its scantness. He is surrounded by items apparently taken in trade from the two Europeans in the boat. The Indian from Hennepin (item 104) is left to his nakedness. Again, the men in the boat are apparently Europeans. These illustrations may be compared with those from Lahontan (items 132 and 133) and from Le Page du Prats (item 142).

31. Bossu, Jean Bernard, 1720-1792. F 372 B737

 exploration and travel series, v. 35)
- "Translation of the account (in epistolary form) of Bossu's first two trips as related to the second LeJay edition of the Nouveaux voyages and indes occidentals."*
- First American edition but not the first edition in English. A translation by John Reinhold Forester was published in London in 1771.*
32. Brackenridge, Henry Marie, 1786-1871. LaC F 598 B79
 Journal of a voyage up the river Missouri; performed

 334p. illus.

Despite the publishers claim that "new sources material has made possible this moment-by-moment appraisal of the battles," the bibliography and notes indicate little in the way of "new sources" material. Bibliography consisting primarily of published sources.

Excerpt from Catholic World, v. 42, March, 1866, pp. 808-824.

After two pages containing a brief account of the settlement of Louisiana by Iberville and his brothers, Bienville and Sauvolle, Gayarré devotes the remainder of his article to the establishment of the Ursulines in New Orleans in 1729. Extensive portions of the article are quotations from the letters of the Ursuline nun Madeleine Hachard (sister St. Stanislas) as translated by Gayarré.

527p. incl. front., illus., maps.

First edition.

"Rumors having reached the author ... of the doubtful correctness of Schoolcraft in assuming Itasca to be the Primal Reservoir of the river, he determined to investigate the matter in the interest of geography, and ... organized an expedition to proceed to the Headwaters. The result was the discovery of a body of water lying immediately to the south of Lake Itasca, and emptying into the latter through a perennial stream ... This lake ... being above Itasca, necessarily invalidated the claim of Schoolcraft, and the author's location of the true Head of the Mississippi is now recognized by nearly all of the geographers and educational publishers of this country and Europe." - Preface.

Sabin No. 31350.

This is a second edition identical, except for the title page, to the first edition printed in Utrecht in 1697 (Sabin No. 31349). It includes the substance of Hennepin's first book, but gives, before the account of his voyage up the Mississippi, an account of a voyage he here claims to have made down to the mouth and up again. It is identical, in fact, with Membré's in Leclerq, which Hennepin says was taken from his account. The charges against Hennepin's veracity are based on this interpolation chiefly. The preface contains a narrative of his embroglio with La Salle.

The first engraved view of Niagara Falls appeared in the Utrecht edition and is included here. The illustrations are extremely beautiful.

Item 104

Hennepin's view of Niagara Falls was the first engraved view of the Falls ever published. It appeared first in the Utrecht edition of 1697 and was included in the edition of Amsterdam published the following year. Our illustration is taken from the Amsterdam edition.

Concerning Hennepin the following is quoted from Sabin No. 31374:

"... this famed traveler, who was 'the undoubted discoverer and explorer of the upper Mississippi, and the first to lay open to the world that mighty region.' That he should have made some mistakes is not to be wondered at, and that when he first saw the falls of Niagara he should have overstated the 'wonderful downfall of above 600 feet,' is not very surprising; but his mistakes have not entitled him to receive the castigations which have been heaped upon him. Bancroft, Vol. III, 202, remarks: 'Had he loved truth, he would have gained a noble reputation, who now is remembered, not merely as a light-hearted and daring discoverer, but also as a boastful liar. The Journal of a voyage down the Mississippi in this book is a lie by the author.' Charlevoix was the first to attack the author, not so much with reference to the truth of his statements as to his manner. He remarks that Hennepin 'thence his chagrin not only on the Sieur de la Sale, but on France also, by which he deemed himself ill used, and he tries to save his credit by declaring himself a born subject of the Catholic King. But he should have remembered that it was at the expense of France that he travelled in America, and that it was in the name of the most Christian King that he and the Sieur Dacan took possession of the countries which they had discovered. He does not even hesitate to aver that it was with the consent of the Catholic King, his first sovereign, that he dedicated his book to William III, King of England, and that he solicited that monarch to effect the conquest of those vast tracts, send colonies there, and have the gospel preached to the heathens. This step, which scandalized the Catholics, and made even Protestants laugh, surprised to see a religieux, calling himself Missionary and Apostolic Prothonotary, exort a Protestant Prince to found a church in the New World. All these works are written in a deflatory style, offensive by its inflation, and revolting by the liberties which the author takes, and by his indecent invectives. As to substance, Father Hennepin believed himself entitled to take a traveller's license; he is accordingly much decried in Canada, his fellow-travellers often protesting that he was anything but truthful in his accounts.' - New France, Vol. I. On which we remark that it must be recollected that Charlevoix (whose remarks are ungrammatical) was a Jesuit, and that Hennepin belonged to an order who was opposed to them, that he should have solicited the assistance of William III is simply a proof that he was no bigot. Mr. Field very properly observes that: 'criticism (on Hennepin) proceeds from sources which entitle him to the benefit at least of a doubt of its impartiality,' and adds,

'The author lost the support of his own brethren of the order of Recollects by neglecting or refusing to return to his duties in America as a missionary.' 'This Reverend Father was the most impudent of liars, and the narrative is a rare monument of brazen mendacity. Hennepin however, had seen much and dared much: for among his many failings fear had no part; and where his vanity or his spite was not involved, he often told the truth. ... These fabrications occur, not in the early editions, which are comparatively truthful, but in the edition of 1697, and those which followed. La Salle was dead at the time of their publication.' - Parkman's Discovery of the Great West, p. 124. The question of Hennepin's veracity, as to his claim of descending the Mississippi, was first raised by Saprks' 'Life of La Salle,' 'Amer. Biog.,' II. 1, followed by Shea, Parkman, etc. A portion of Hennepin's first work is given in Shea's 'Discovery of the Mississippi,' and his 'New Discovery' is included in the 'Amer. Ant. Soc. Trans.,' Vol. 1. See Faribault's 'Bibl.,' also 'N. Am. Rev.,' XLVIII. 70; XLIX. 258."

Item 133

Item 132

Lahontan's Indian underwent considerable change from one edition to another. In the second Amsterdam edition of 1728 (item 133) a loincloth has been crudely added to the original plate—a fig leaf is still discernible. Thwaites' edition of 1905 (item 132) was based on the 1703 London edition. The fig leaf remains and the drawing is much refined.

 xxii p., 1 l., 25-29 (p. front., plates, 2 port., facisms., coat of arms.)

"First edition."
Biography of the Chevalier Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac. Chapters XI through SV concern Cadillac and Louisiana. The author defends Cadillac in Louisiana at the expense of Iberville and Bienville.

There are numerous errors in the Louisiana section (e.g. La Salle's Texas grave is placed in or near the Mississippi (p. 205), bayou, which means river is explained as an Indian word meaning a bay-like lake of the sea (p. 206), Le Page du Pratz's young Indian girl becomes an old Indian (p. 220)).

This is interesting reading but careless history.

*"Important as showing the French claims to the Southern territory now occupied by several states, but claimed also by the English under the name of 'Carolina.' The author resided in Louisiana fifteen years and it is from his relation that most of the details of the life of the Natchez and other Mississippi tribes of Indians have been derived.
Later historians have availed themselves of his materials. The plates are barbarous; indeed the 'Monthly Review,' XIX, 296, remarks, 'They remind one of the cuts in the old 'Hortus Sanitatis.' The author appears to have been a very sensible and very worthy man, but with very little talent as a writer. His stile is unequal and diffuse, and his work wants method.'" - Sabin No. 40122.*
This set still contains all 40 plates and both maps.

Item 142

Although Le Page du Pratz's illustrations have been termed "barbarous" -- and often are - his "Naturels de l'Amérique" have the classic beauty of Greek gods. The drawings of the Indian in Summer and of the woman and girl are greatly superior to other illustrations in the work.

A translation of chapters XXXI to XLVIII of book II and the whole of book III of the author's Histoire de la Nouvelle France, first published in 1609.
"First published in this series in 1928."
This account of a voyage to Acadia in 1606 by a witty French barrister has a flavor all its own. His description of the births, marriages, wars, funerals, and social life of the Indians is strongly reminiscent of Motaigne. The work is full of quaint description and observation.

An account of Louisiana, being an abstract of documents, in the offices of the Departments of States. And of the Treasury. Philadelphia: printed by William Duane, No. 106, Market Street, 1803.
50p. fold. Tab.

A compilation made by direction of President Jefferson from information furnished by Dr. John Sibley of Natchitoches, La., and others. Cf. Jefferson's Writings, ed. by P.L. Ford, v. 10, 1899, p. 338, and S.L. Mitchell's Discourse on ... Jefferson, 1826, p. 27.

Transmitted to congress: the Account. Nov. 14, 1803, and the Appendix (of which documents II-VI are included in the edition) Nov. 29, 1803.

Also found in American State Papers, Miscellaneous, v.1, Washington, 1834, p. 344-356, 281-284, under title: Description of Louisiana, (Appendix, under title: Digest of the Laws of Louisiana).

Sabin No. 42177.

236. Vandercook, John Womack, 1902- LaC F 1924 V232 1928
Black majesty; the life of Christophe, King of Haiti. With drawings by Mahlon Blaine. New York, Harper (1928).
207p. illus.

First edition.

This is not, of course, a Louisiana item although it does pertain to French America. It is included in the collection because of the number of Haitian planters who came to Louisiana after the revolution in Haiti.

As a companion to this title the collection includes a carved and painted wooden bust of Christophe.

237. Vergennes, Charles Gravier, Comte de, 1719-1787.
Memoire historique et politique sur la Louisiane, par M. de Vergennes, Ministre de Louis XVI, accompagné d'un précis de la vie de ce ministre, et suivi d'autres memoires sur l'Indostan, Saint-Dominque, la Corse et la Guyane. Paris, Lepetit jeune, an x. - 1802.

xxiv, (25-318p. port).

First edition.

Lettre de m. le chevalier Turgot, à m. le duc de Choiseuil, 10 Octobre, 1765, p. 273-300.

The "Mémoire ... sur la Louisiane" was written about 1777. For discussion of its authenticity, see American Historical Review, January, 1905, p. 273-300.

This copy belonged to Thomas Balch and carries his signature on the first page of the précis.

239. Vidrine, Jacqueline O. Gen F 377 S14 V513
Marriage contracts of the Opelousas Post, 1766-1803. Translated and abstracted by Jacqueline O. Vidrine and Winston De Ville. With an introd. By John C.L. Andreassen and a brief history of the Opelousas Post by Edwin A. Davis. (Ville Platte? La.) 1960.
ix, 84p. illus.

240. Villiers de Terrage, Marc, baron de 1867- LaC F 373 V75
Les dernières années de la Louisiane française; le chevalier de Kerlérec, d'Abbadie-Aubry. Laussat. 64 illustrations, 4 cartes. Paris, E. Guilmoto (1904).
2p. 1., v. (1) 468p. illus. (incl. Ports., maps).

An interesting and useful work, but with a few minor errors. The illustrations are generally poorly reproduced and sometimes incorrectly identified (e.g. the so-called portrait of Bienville on p. 25 is actually one of his brother Iberville, whereas the portrait of Iberville on p. 8 is actually Bienville).

Journals of Beausejour: Diary of John Thomas, Journal of Louis de Courville; edited by John Clarence Webster
.. Special Publication, the Public Archives of Nova Scotia. (Sackville, N.B., The Tribune Press) 1937.
54p. incl. front. (map) facisim.

Inscribed copy: "To/Dr. Harold Bowditch/with complements/of/J.C. Webster/Shediac, N.B.,/Dec.1/37."

The diary of John Thomas, surgeon-mate in the 1st Battalion of the Colonial force under Monckton, provides an account of punitive expeditions against the Acadian settlements following the capture of Fort Beausejour in 1755.

The journal of Louis de Courville, Royal Notary of Acadia, is taken from "Memoires sur le Canada" published in 1838. The portion printed in this volume relates to the siege of Beausejour.

244. Wild, J.C. LaC F 353 W55

The valley of the Mississippi illustrated in a series of views. Ed. by Lewis Foulk Thomas. Painted and lithographed by J.C. Wild. Accompanied with historical descriptions. St. Louis, 1841-42. (St. Louis, J. Garnier, 1948).

i, 1., reprint: 145p. plates.

"Three hundred numbered copies. This is No. 245." Originally pub. monthly in 9 mos. from July, 1841, to Mar. 1841, with an extra number for Sept. 1841.

"The reproduction was made from a copy of the original work now in possession of the State Historical Society of Missouri, Columbia."

This is a beautiful reprint on high quality paper. The illustrations are exceptionally beautiful. Issues 8 and 9 contain four foldouts which when taken together, form a panorama of the city of St. Louis.

245. Williams, Thomas Harry, 1909- LaC E 565 W5
